Ferdinand Kargl

We have had the great pleasure of working with our partner here, Ferdinand Kargl, for around 30 years, and he has almost become an institution amongst our hunters. He is the veritable embodiment of an Austrian hunter, an excellent mountain hunter who knows his hunting district better than the back of his own hand. Simply experiencing a hunt with him here, in these beautiful mountains, is something really special. While both bucks and ewes bear trophies, the horns of the female are more slender. It's possible to hunt both the males and females. Before starting your hunt you agree with the gamekeeper the size of the trophy you wish to shoot. Normally he is able to accurately estimate the size of the trophy when the animal is within shooting range. This gives the hunter the optional chance of getting the trophy he wants.

HUNTING AREA Gmünd

In the beautiful region of Kärnten, close to the Italian border, Diana has been arranging chamois hunts for around 30 years. Throughout this time we have always worked with the same partner, Ferdinand Kargl.

The hunt takes place on the Scarpa estate, which is a typical mountain district divided into three sections, and is judged to be one of the best chamois districts in Austria. The district is located in the Hohe Tauern National Park and is managed by the experienced gamekeeper Ferdinand Kargl. It's a tough hunt, on foot, which will really test your physical abilities. But you must not let this discourage you from taking part, as the district has a really good population of chamois, and the vast majority of hunters shoot at least one chamois.

The district lies in an incredibly beautiful area, Maltatal. And we can warmly recommend visiting here as a part of a family holiday. There are plenty of things to do and see, and the wonderful scenery here makes a deep impression on most people.

Ferdinand Kargl will collect the hunters in the morning and drive them directly to the hunting district. A really good road has been laid all the way up to the hunting cabin, so it's possible to drive up to this point by car. From the cabin the hunt sets out on foot, up into the mountains. Once the hut is finished, you will make your way back to your hotel.

If you wish to buy the skin of your chamois, this can be arranged for the price of € 150-. Boiling your trophy costs around € 50, and you should also budget for the cost of transport in the hunting district. Expect to pay around € 100,- per day.

It is of course possible to drive to Gmünd yourself, but if you prefer you can fly to the closest airport, Klagenfurt, where we can arrange for you to be picked-up. One can also choose to fly to Salzburg, hire a car and then drive to the district yourself.

About us

Limpopo & Diana Hunting Tours

Limpopo & Diana Hunting Tours Limpopo Travel and Diana Hunting Tours – which today are one and the same company - are built on more than four decades of experience in the hunting travel industry. Diana Hunting tours was founded in Svendborg back in 1974 by the internationally known figure in the hunting tour industry, Jan Krössteig, who today remains shareholder and chairman of the concern.

Over the years the company has grown into the world's largest hunting travel office, with hunting partners in more than 40 counties and customers from around the world. This has only been possible because of the strength of our customers faith in our company, our partners and the service we provide. We take great pride in the fact that a significant number of our customers are "regulars" you not only travel with us frequently, but also bring with them new customers into our business.

The hunting travel market has never been as chaotic as it is at present. There have always been a mass of small and medium sized agencies trading on the market, but in recent years the rise of the internet has really opened up the market for direct booking and packages sold by "agents" of more or less transparent character and by agencies based abroad.

A large number of hunters have had their fingers burnt booking "cheap" packages, which rarely proceed as promised. Generally it is only when things go wrong that the unfortunate hunter who bought the tour first realises what the difference between a good Danish travel agency - with all the security that entails - and a questionable foreign seller, really is.

What we offer our customers is a rather unique level of security. Our experienced staff really know our destinations and can provide highly qualified advice tailored to the customer's individual requirements. If you book your hunting tour through us you also have a guarantee against the unlikely event of bankruptcy through the Danish Travel Guarantee Fund. Our long standing membership of the Danish Travel Agency Association is also a guarantee for professional service throughout all the proceedings that a hunting tour entails - also in the event of something not going quite as planned. As one of our customers you can expect around the clock support, via our emergency hotline, in the event of anything at all going wrong.
